

Dakota Resources Learning Network

Empowering Communities.

The Dakota Resources Learning Network is designed to help rural communities and rural economic development leaders connect and engage with one another in order to explore and learn more about topics that matter most to rural economic and community development: engaging people, supporting housing development, supporting local businesses and managing local economic development organizations.

CONNECT.

The Dakota Resources Learning Network membership allows your local economic development organization to connect with others through a vibrant online community of rural change leaders:

- Two live/on-demand webinars each month
- One peer-to-peer learning video conference each month
- Weekly online interactive stories and best practices
- Open Source toolkit and resource library access

Investment: $100 per month

A pre-paid yearly membership of $1200 also includes:

- One ticket to the annual Dakota Resources Empower Sessions (value $100)

Your choice of:

- One learning retreat (value $100)
- One learning journey tour (value $100)
- One online/offline workshop (value $100)

Additional tickets or access to additional events is available for $100 per person.

ENGAGE.

Dakota Resources will help you customize an on-site coaching package for your community based on your needs, your budget and your goals.

On-site options

(you can choose one, some or many):

- Facilitated community conversations
- Coaching sessions for local groups and teams
- Community workshops and trainings
- Local economic development organization vision and strategy retreats
- Local economic development organization financial review and coaching
- Capital Investment Fund financing available to qualifying EDOs. (See dakotaresources.org for details)

Pricing for each of the customizable menu items is available on back page. Network members receive reduced pricing.

EMPOWER.

The empower process will change how your community gets things done through a comprehensive 12-18 month phased coaching process that upgrades your approach to empowering local people and organizations to lead action.

This package includes maximizing all options for success:
